

Trustees To Collect Slow Notes Are Named

Van Ingen, Lewis and Lane Will Endeavor to Realize on Slow and Doubtful Debts Due National Ulster County Bank and Trust Company—Forms For Depositors and Stockholders to be Mailed Soon.

Progress is being made on the new plan to re-open the National Ulster County Bank and Trust Company. This plan, which has been approved by the treasury department, calls for a reorganization of the bank in such a manner as to make it absolutely liquid. The plan as presented to the depositors' committee at a meeting Saturday evening is meeting with the approval of depositors and numerous expressions to that effect have been made by substantial depositors in the closed institution.

This plan calls for the taking over of the slow, doubtful and bad notes by trustees who will collect them and turn the proceeds over to the depositors. None of the questionable paper will be held by the new bank. Depositors in the bank will be pleased to learn that the following men have agreed to act as trustees and handle these collections at no expense to the depositors:

Prof. B. C. Van Ingen, superintendent of Kingston schools; Howard C. Lewis, treasurer of the Kelvinator Refrigerator Company of Detroit, Mich.; and a resident of Kingston; Chancery A. Lane of the W. E. Joyce Construction Company of this city.

These men will act as trustees of the three classes of notes and when payments are made the funds will be turned over to the depositors and applied on reducing the 25 per cent of the depositors money which is retained under the reorganization plan.

It is expected that a large amount of the notes will be paid and turned over to the depositors within a few months.

Forms will be mailed shortly to both depositors and stockholders for signature of approval of the new plan. These forms are now in the hands of the printers and will be available in a few days. Already requests have been made for forms by depositors who desire to subscribe to the new plan.

Seek Applications For Postmasterships

Vacancies in Port Ewen, Walkkill and Windham Will Be Filled From List of Applicants Taking Examinations.

To fill vacancies of postmaster in Port Ewen, Walkkill and Windham, the United States Civil Service Commission will hold examinations in Kingston at a date to be announced later. These are third class postmaster examinations and applications must be filed in Washington, D. C. prior to the closing of business on August 14. Full information and application blanks may be obtained at the post office, or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Veterans preference will not be granted unless documentary proof is submitted.

It is expected that appointments will be made as a result of this examination unless it is found in the interest of the service to fill any vacancy by transfer or promotion. This is not an examination under the civil service act, but is held under executive order of July 12, 1933, providing for such procedure.

The date for assembling competitors will be stated on admission cards sent applicants after the date for the close of receipt of applications, and will be about 15 days after that date.

The salary for each post is as follows: Port Ewen $1,600; Walkkill, $2,400 and Windham, $2,900.

To be eligible for the examination, an applicant must be a citizen of the United States, must reside within the delivery of the post office for which the examination is held, must have resided for at least one year next preceding the date for close of receipt of applications, must be in good physical condition, and within the prescribed age limits. The competition is open to both men and women.

Under the terms of the Executive order, the Civil Service Commission will certify to the Postmaster General the names of the highest three qualified eligibles, if as many as three are qualified, from which the Postmaster General may select one for nomination by the President. Confirmation by the Senate is the final action.

Lehman Asks Suspension of Anti-Trust Laws

Albany, N. Y., July 27 (AP).—Governor Herbert H. Lehman asked the New York legislature today to suspend the state's anti-trust laws to permit the full operation of President Roosevelt's national recovery program within the state's borders.

In a new message to the legislature, now in special session, the governor pointed out that while the National Recovery Act virtually suspends the federal anti-trust laws, the state anti-trust statutes hinder the full swing of the national recovery program in this state by making trade agreements and industrial combinations illegal.

In another new message the Governor asked the lawmakers to pave the way for the deepening of the barge canal from Oswego to Watford at the expense of the federal government. The cost will be approximately $27,500,000.

The Governor recommended that the state set up a revolving fund of $10,000,000 to show its good faith. Later the state will be reimbursed for whatever it spends, from the federal $3,200,000,000 fund for public works.

In the message, calling for suspension of the anti-trust laws, Governor Lehman said he believed New York should also be willing to use its state and local officers to carry out the terms of the national recovery act.

"The federal act," he declared, "provides that in order to effectuate its policy relating both to industrial codes and public works and construction, with the consent of the state, to utilize state and local officers and employees. I believe this state should agree to cooperate through its officers, employees, provided, however, no state officer and employee may be used without the specific consent of the governor, so as to preclude the possible impairment of the discharge of state and local duties."

In addition to the $10,000,000 revolving fund, Mr. Lehman said, the state will need to appropriate $200,000 for purchase of rights of way in connection with the canal improvement.

Yesterday the state senate went on record in favor of accepting the federal aid.

In two messages, the first yesterday, Lehman has opened five legislative gates. He asked the lawmakers for statutes to enable cities to levy taxes to finance unemployment relief; to employ financial agents to take over municipal affairs when communities become bankrupt; to permit communities to reopen their budgets so as to reduce salaries; to improve the canal and to repeal or suspend the anti-trust law.

U. S. RECOVERY PLAN FIRST CONFERENCE TOLD

London, July 27 (AP).—James M. Cox of Ohio made it clear to the world economic conference at its closing session today that the United States program of domestic recovery must come before the work of international conferences.

Declaring that much was heard about nationalistic enterprises as hindrances to the parity, called six weeks ago to consider the world's economic ills, the former Ohio governor said:

"This is a development which must be regarded with patient understanding."

"Nations intensively devoting their energies to putting their houses in order are not dealing primarily with either monetary or economic problems."

"It is a social question, pure and simple, and it is a wise nation that regards the social order as its first duty."

In contrast to the opening of the parity when there was an atmosphere charged with intense expectations, the greatest assembly of its kind the world has known moved toward adjournment today without dramatic effects.

Istanbul, July 27 (AP).—Ten miners were buried alive today by an explosion in the Zonguldak coal mine. Four bodies were recovered shortly before noon.

Canfield's Code for Tailors, Dyers and Cleaners Is Filed

First Local Code Filed Is One Adopted By Tailors, Cleaners and Dyers—Was Drawn by Palmer Canfield.

The first local code under the National Industrial Recovery Act to be filed is one adopted on July 5 by the tailors, cleaners and dyers of the counties of Ulster, Dutchess, Orange and Sullivan. This code was prepared by former Mayor Palmer Canfield and was signed by forty tailors, cleaners and dyers comprising the principal business concerns in the said counties engaged in the said businesses. A code was first adopted by the tailors, cleaners and dyers of Kingston and was then extended to take in all of Ulster county. The tailors, cleaners and dyers of the other counties requested to be included in the code and such a code was drafted to include them. This code conforms with the National Industrial Recovery Act and the purposes are to provide for fair prices, fair wages and fair working hours with the object of increasing the number of employees.

The code in full is as follows: The undersigned, engaged in the tailoring, cleaning and dyeing businesses in the counties of Ulster, Dutchess, Orange and Sullivan, State of New York, do hereby make and adopt the following code of fair competition for the regulation of such businesses within said territory.

First. It is agreed that we will conform with the purposes and provisions of the National Industrial Recovery Act, and will cooperate with the national administrator of said act, and with any national code adopted having application to our respective businesses.

Second. It is agreed that we will establish and follow principles of fair competition, and control unfair price competition, and not put into effect or adopt any destructive practices involving ruinous price cutting which make business unprofitable and reduce prices below operating cost and tend to reduce wage levels.

Third. It is agreed that we will give employees a fair deal in respect to minimum wages, maximum working hours and the right to organize and bargain collectively.

Fourth. It is agreed that we will regulate our advertising to avoid and prevent any advertising that misrepresents merchandise, values or services.

Fifth. It is agreed that we will regulate our selling or business methods to avoid and prevent any methods that mislead the consumer or customer or which shall be deemed acts of unfair competition.

Sixth. It is agreed that none of the restraints imposed by this code is of a discriminatory nature, but are to protect consumers and customers, competitors, employees and others and are in furtherance of the public interest.

Seventh. It is agreed that no inequitable restrictions will be imposed on admission to others engaged in such businesses within said territory, and the purpose will be to truly represent and include all of said businesses within said area.

Eighth. It is agreed that this code is not designed to promote monopolies or to stifle initiative or to eliminate or oppress small businesses or discriminate against them.

Ninth. It is agreed that our purpose will be to effectuate the policy of the National Industrial Recovery Act; and that the territory above mentioned may be extended; and that any wage compensation, hours of labor and fair price lists shall be subject to revision, modification and change from time to time, and that this code may be supplemented or modified.

Tenth. It is agreed that to carry out our purposes more effectively a Local Recovery Board of 10 members shall be appointed and selected who shall have the power and authority to draft and make further changes to this code from time to time, and also to provide penalties for its violation, and that any of the members shall have the right to appeal from any such decision to the main body of members.

It is agreed that the number of working hours shall not exceed 44 hours a week, except for employers and executives.

It is agreed that the minimum wage rates per week shall be: For experienced employees, $15 to $40.

It is agreed that the conditional fair price list binding when adopted for pressing and cleaning shall be subject to change, as set forth in the list hereto annexed. For other work and services and for merchandise it is agreed not to sell, offer for sale, or advertise same to the public for less than the net invoice cost, or net cost of value of services plus ten per cent to insure fair wages and fair prices and fair competition. This provision shall not apply to seasonal or holiday clearances.

This code shall be executed without any discrimination against any dealer or business so that the spirit of fair and equitable treatment may prevail.

Madrid, July 27 (AP).—The government of Spain today recognized the government of Soviet Russia.

Roosevelt Does Not Weir Double Death Regard the Economic Parley as a Failure

President's Dramatic Message Enables Conference to Adjourn in Buoyant Spirits—Torrent of Criticism From Soviet Spokesman.

London, July 27 (AP).—President Roosevelt in a dramatic message to Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain today ripped the labels of "failure" from the world economic conference which many delegates were busily affixing by their speeches at the final plenary session.

The President's note, which Secretary of State Cordell Hull read to the assembled delegates, came as a climax to a morning of speeches, most of which were critical.

The session was adjourned until 3 p. m. as soon as the communication was read. Mr. Hull was scheduled to speak during the afternoon meeting.

Far from the bickering and squabbling of London during the last six weeks, Roosevelt gave the delegates a perspective of the work they have done here and told them that "results are not always measured in terms of formal agreement."

With an interchange of views comes a better understanding by nations of the problems of other countries, he said, adding that he does not regard the world congress as a failure.

The President's message enabled the conference to adjourn for lunch in buoyant spirits instead of under the heavy atmosphere of continued criticism which speaker after speaker had voiced in the morning session.

The delegates, like school boys released after a severe lecture and then a word of praise from their teacher, laughed and chatted.

All morning the delegates had sweltered in an atmosphere similar to that of an American political convention. Curtains were drawn to shut the sun from the factory-like windows of the Geological Museum, where the conference is centered, and it was very hot inside.

President Roosevelt's cheering words to Mr. MacDonald came after Jean Malsky, Russian ambassador at London and head of the U. S. S. R. delegation, had launched the most bitter session of criticism of the entire session.

From mingled remarks of disillusionment and disappointment and of hope for the future, with which earlier speakers began the day's proceedings, the meeting rose to a torrent of criticism from the Soviet spokesman.

Cases Today Before Judge Culloton

Viola Wilson, a negress of 90 Broadway, was arraigned before Judge Culloton in city court this morning on a charge of third degree assault preferred by Lillian Cox, another negress, whom Viola struck on the head with a bottle Wednesday afternoon. She was fined $10.

The assault grew out of an argument over Colleen, Mrs. Cox's child, who has been in the custody of Viola Wilson for four years. Yesterday Mrs. Cox called at the Wilson home to claim her daughter. Viola refused to give up the child. In arguing with Mrs. Cox she became so enraged that she struck her on the head with the bottle.

Officer Peter Camp went to the Wilson home and placed Viola under arrest on information furnished by Mrs. Cox. She was taken to police headquarters and after questioning was released on $50 bail. Mrs. Cox went to the Kingston Hospital to receive treatment for scalp wounds.

Mrs. Cox this morning asked Judge Culloton what he would do about returning her child. He informed her it was not within the jurisdiction of his court to do anything about the matter.

Other Cases.

Louis Seager, 44, of Lucas avenue, was fined $5 for public intoxication. He was arrested Wednesday evening by Patrolman Frank Fatum at Greenkill avenue and Broadway.

Paul Krusher, 19, of Albany avenue Extension was discharged on two charges preferred by Traffic Policeman Henry Barman. Krusher was arrested Wednesday for driving without a certificate of registration or chauffeur's license. He produced them in court this morning.

George E. Harford, 24, of Hurley, arrested by Officer Barman Wednesday for speeding, 48 miles an hour on Albany avenue, was fined $10.

Ticetelt Held.

The hearing of Clayton Ticetelt of Albany avenue on a charge of robbery preferred by Hiram Clapper, a farmer on the Harry Bailey estate at Mt. Tremper, was postponed until next Tuesday morning. Clapper claims he was robbed of his watch and some money while riding in Ticetelt's car early last Sunday morning.

Attorney Roger H. Loughran represented Clapper in court and Arthur B. Ewig spoke for Ticetelt who is being held in $500 bail bond.

Compensation Hearings.

Referee Frederick A. Hoyt will hold hearings at the court house, Kingston, August 1 and 2, in cases under the workmen's compensation law.

Roosevelt Does Not Weir Double Death In N.Y. Restaurant Mystifies Police

Poppy Seed Roll Death Instrument of Two in New York City Restaurant—Both Deaths Mystery to Police.

New York, July 27 (AP).—Death for two was colled in that poppy seed roll!

First to die was the man. Then the women. The records of the police show no tragedy more weird or more fantastic.

Henry Jellinek, 50 years old, married and father of an 18-year-old son, had not been well for several weeks, but he hadn't complained, and indeed seemed much improved. His automobile business was satisfactory. He seemed as contented as a man has a right to be.

No one knows what goes on in another's mind. It may have been that when Henry Jellinek went forth yesterday morning he was brooding. His business partner, Adolph Schwartz said it could hardly have been the business, and he doubted if his illness had been serious enough to provoke despondency.

This much, however, is known. Henry Jellinek entered the upper Broadway restaurant and purchased two poppy seed rolls. What happened from that moment until, a short time later, he died of swift acting poison, is partly police conjecture.

He took the rolls to a table and sat down. He broke one of them in two.

Did he pour poison into the broken roll? And did he swallow half of the roll with suicidal intent? Having consumed part of the roll—last night's autopsy disclosed that—, he arose and went to the washroom. The poison struck swiftly. He collapsed and died as doctors arrived.

Into the same restaurant there came the woman, Lillian Fields, 43 years old. A strange woman, Lillian Fields, as the custodian of the building where she lived on West 104th street recalled today.

She had appeared at the building three years ago. The janitor found her sleeping in the hallway. Taking compassion, he offered her the use of a dingy cellar room. Later she offered to pay $7 a month rental, and she had lived there ever since.

No one in the neighborhood understood her. She had a double lock placed on the door. She piled cardboard boxes to block the only window. The only furnishings were a faded red sofa, salvaged from a dump heap, and a rickety bedstead and springs, without a mattress.

Always she bewailed her poverty. She sought scraps of food, leftovers. She went about, picking up whatever might be of even the slightest value. These she placed in the cardboard boxes that filled her cellar home.

There were other things in those cardboard boxes. Police found them today: Bankbooks showing deposits of more than $40,000. Her father, who died 12 years ago, had been Simon S. Rosenfeld, a real estate dealer of Boston and New York. He had willed her $15,000.

With wealth no farther than her bank, she lived in self-elected and abject poverty. Rather than spend her money, she ate where she could find food; a crust of bread—a poppy seed roll.

Into the restaurant on upper Broadway she walked yesterday morning. Henry Jellinek, who had eaten half of one of his rolls, had just arisen from his chair. Death already had him by the hand.

Lillian Fields shuffled among the tables. Her glance swept the places from which diners had departed and where the remains of their breakfasts still reposed.

She came to the table where Henry Jellinek had sat. His plate was there. On it were the remains of his poppy seed rolls—a whole and a half one; a half loaded with death.

Swiftly she snatched up the untouched roll. She tucked it into her handbag. She would eat that later. Her fingers fastened about the remaining half roll.

In the washroom Henry Jellinek was dying of poison.

The woman lifted the roll, its broken crust peppered with poppy seed, to her mouth.

She ate it.

An hour later she was dead.

That is the theory police offered today for the death of Henry Jellinek and Lillian Fields, two strangers who breakfasted on a roll.

The bottle which contained the liquid poison had not been found. That gave rise to other possibilities. Still, the bottle could have been disposed of before the roll was touched or after Jellinek left his table.

Or he may have intended to take medicine in the roll and by mistake taken poison.

Not every point in the double death is yet clear. Some, such as what happened to the poison container, are as dark as the cheerless cellar that Lillian Fields—with a fortune in the bank—called home.

What Is Required Of Those Who Sign The President's Plan

Rules in Brief for Those Who Sign Re-employment Agreement Sponsored by President Roosevelt.

Washington, July 27 (AP).—This is brief is what the President's re-employment agreement requires of those who sign it:

An employer of factory or mechanical workers or artisans will not pay them less than 40 cents an hour or work them more than 35 hours a week, unless he was paying less than 40 cents for the same work on July 15, 1929, in which case the rate at that time, but not less than 30 cents an hour, may be paid.

All employees paid on a weekly basis receive not less than $15 in a city of more than half a million; $14.50 in cities of quarter of a million up to $14 from quarter of a million down to 2,500; and no less than $12 below that. These may not be worked more than forty hours a week, except for specified cases.

Higher paid employees should not have wages reduced because hours are cut, and a normal ratio should be maintained between minimum and higher paid levels. Children under 16 may not be worked after August 31, except that those over 14 may work three hours in daylight so long as it doesn't interfere with day school hours.

Prices must not be raised any more than actual cost increases require.

Wheels of Plane Sink In Sand, Five Injured

Dublin, Irish Free State, July 27 (AP).—The wheels of the plane in which the Australian aviator, Capt. Charles T. P. Ulm, and three companions planned to fly to North America, sank in the sands at Portmarnock airdrome near here today, resulting in injuries to five persons.

Planes were being put under the plane to raise it, but the machine slipped, pinning three persons under the fuselage. They and two others also hurt were taken to a hospital. None of the injuries was serious.

The accident occurred while a score of civic guards were attempting to lift the left wheel of the plane. For ten minutes their effort was futile against the weight of the fuel and stores.

Ulm asked them to make a special effort. They strained to the task and the wheel began to lift.

Spectators started a cheer that died in their throats as they heard a rending crash. The undercarriage collapsed and the great plane lurched sideways, slapping its right wing into the sand.

Michael Rooney, Associated Press correspondent, was struck and felled by the tip of the wing.

Ulm was dazed.

"This is infernally hard luck," he said.

"Cheer up," said another flier. "It would have been worse had it been at the takeoff."

The guards set to work at once in an effort to save the plane from the rising tide. It was estimated several days would be required for the necessary repairs.

THIEVES STEAL CHICKENS AND MEAT FROM FARMER'S

This morning at 7:30 o'clock the police department was notified that thieves had entered the Farber slaughter house downtown some time during the night. A check-up showed six chickens, five calves' livers and a strip of lamb missing. The police are investigating the matter.

Treasury Receipts.

Washington, July 27 (AP).—Treasury receipts for July 25 were $3,676,974.45; expenditures, $4,738,661.75, which were more than paid out by repayment of $12,459,824.46 of emergency expenditure previously made and now returned to the treasury by the Farm Credit Administration; balance, $845,157,355.64. Customs duties for July 25 were $13,919,310.16.

Professor Bentley Dead.

Ithaca, N. Y., July 27 (AP).—John Bentley, Jr., 57, Professor of Forest Engineering at Cornell University since 1918 and a member of the faculty for 22 years, died last night of anemia, he was a brother of Assemblyman Ellis W. Bentley.

Albany, N. Y., July 27 (AP).—Spurred by a message from Governor Lehman, the New York Senate today passed and sent to the Assembly a bill creating a revolving fund of $10,000,000 for the improvement of the barge canal from Oswego to Watford.

The vote was 43 to 2.

This action was taken in anticipation of aid from the federal government, which has virtually assured the state that it will pay the entire cost of deepening the canal from 12 feet to 14 feet between locks, and the elevation of the canal bridges to 20 feet so that the waterway will accommodate larger boats.

The total cost is estimated at $27,500,000.

In addition to setting up the revolving fund, the bill passed by the Senate appropriates $200,000 for the purchase of rights of way by the state. Under a plan which a subcommittee of army engineers has already approved, the $200,000 will be all the state has to pay.

The army engineers as a whole are expected to approve the $27,500,000 expenditure after a hearing with a special New York Barge Canal committee at Washington Monday.

Gov. Frederick Stuart Greene, state superintendent of public works, had estimated the project will give work to 5,000 men directly or indirectly.

Over the objections of a bloc representing the northeastern section of the state, the Assembly concurred with the Senate action yesterday in adopting a resolution putting New York on record in favor of the improvement at the expense of the federal government.

The opponents of the plan said the canal project would be used as an argument against the ratification of the treaty between the United States and Canada for the St. Lawrence waterway and waterpower development.

Senators Thomas C. Desmond, Newburgh Republican, and Warren T. Thayer, Franklin county Republican, voted against the appropriation bill.

TOMPKINS COUNTY BEER BOARD MEMBER REMOVED

Albany, N. Y., July 27 (AP).—The state beer board today awaited word from the board of supervisors of Tompkins county as to their choice of a successor for Clarence L. Houghton, who was removed from the county beer board yesterday.

The state board held that Houghton had "failed to cooperate and comply" with its working method. The board was informed that he had failed to approve applications for licenses.

Houghton was the first county beer board member to be removed by the state board under the power given it by the last legislature.

He was summoned to Albany by Edward P. Mulrooney, chairman of the state board, after the Tompkins county board had been deadlocked since its first meeting. Forty licenses were granted upon the sole approval of the other member of the board, Mrs. Frank Thilly.

DEAD OF SELF-INFLICTED SHOTGUN BULLET WOUNDS

Hornell, N. Y., July 27 (AP).—Ervin E. Baker, 14, died today in St. James Mercy Hospital of shotgun bullet wounds about the head, self-inflicted last night near his home at Woodhull, 25 miles south of here.

Deputy Sheriff Howard M. Travis, who investigated, said the boy had not been feeling well lately and left his home last night about 8 o'clock. When his family heard a shot a few minutes later they made a search and found the lad's body in a cheese factory in the nearby woods.

PARLEY WIPES OUT POST OFFICE DEFICIT

Washington, July 27 (AP).—A leftover $153,000,000 post office deficit was reported today by Ambrose O'Connell, special assistant to the postmaster general, to have been almost entirely wiped out.

In his address, asking greater use of the postal service, O'Connell said that James A. Farley, postmaster general, "came into office to find a postal deficit of $153,000,000 incurred by the previous administration."

Mrs. Robinson Released.

Mrs. George Robinson of Olivered, held on an assault charge growing out of the shooting of her husband some time ago, was released from jail today on $2,500 bail. Bail was fixed by County Judge Frederick G. Traver. Robinson's condition is reported as improved.

Local Vegetables and Fruit on the Market

Although the dry weather has seriously curtailed, and in some cases ruined early crops, the recent rains will be of great value to sweet corn, tomatoes, peaches and many other later crops, according to the Ulster County Farm Bureau. It is recommended that all consumers demand local or home-grown fruit and vegetables that are in season.

Sweet corn has been in the market for a week or 10 days, but the bulk of the crop is now coming into production. The dry weather and a disease of early sweet corn, known as Stewart's Disease, has caused a very short crop thus far. The rain will not only improve the quality but will increase the supply available. Local sweet corn, fresh from the field, is now available.

Some vegetable growers have had tomatoes to sell for about 10 days, but they are now becoming available in larger quantities. The crop will be seriously cut short by the dry weather, but the later varieties should have a good yield. Other vegetables from local sources now available are: Carrots, cucumbers, summer squash, lettuce, onions, turnips, cabbage, beans, cauliflower and broccoli. Some potatoes are also being harvested, but the yield of early varieties is very low.

Early varieties of apples such as yellow transparent and red astrachan are now on the market. Many have already been picked but only a few growers have commercial quantities of these early apples. Some currants and gooseberries are still available, but they will not be in the market much longer. The earliest peaches will be picked within the next few weeks.

The Farm Bureau is making an effort to keep the consumer informed as to the time when various local fruits and vegetables are available.

Holstein Club Plans Dance and Picnic

A special Holstein Club committee consisting of Orson Beatty and Albert Kurdt, is busy making arrangements for a big picnic and dance on August 3, at Tilton Lake in the south end of the county. The proceeds will be used by the club to send a county herd of cattle to the State Fair early in September. Paul Zucca and his seven piece orchestra will provide music for the dancing. Tickets are available from all Holstein Club members or at the Farm Bureau Office in Kingston.

Those who desire to come early can enjoy bathing and boating in the lake. At seven o'clock daffyns from all parts of the county, with their families and friends will enjoy a picnic supper on the shore of the lake and at 9 o'clock dancing will start. The officers of the club are anxious to have a large crowd to enable the State Fair Hard committee to raise sufficient funds to send the herd to the fair.

I've always found that really good reasons are the simplest reasons. For instance, I know that sunshine mellows and heat purifies. "Toasting" is therefore very easy for me to understand. And very easy for me to appreciate—because—my sense of the fastidious is so very exacting. You see, I'm always aware of the fact that my cigarette comes in such intimate contact with my lips. Quite naturally, it's the purity of "Toasting" that I single out for special praise. It's just my own personal feminine reason for saying "Luckies Please!"

McGee Sentenced to Death for Kidnaping Miss Mary McElroy

One of the Few in History To Bring Death Sentence Where The Victim Was Unharmed—Interrupts Trial of Brother To Render Verdict.

Kansas City, July 27 (AP)—Walter McGee was sentenced to death today by a criminal court jury which convicted him of kidnaping Miss Mary McElroy, daughter of the city manager of Kansas City.

The case was the first in which the extreme penalty has been assessed in the nation's crusade against kidnapers.

It is one of the few in history to bring the death sentence where the victim of the kidnaping was unharmed.

The jury deliberated three and three-quarter hours last night and reached the verdict soon after resuming deliberations this morning.

The jury interrupted the trial of McGee's brother George, facing the same charge, to render its verdict.

The former Oregon convict retained his composure as he heard the jury announce he had been condemned to the gallows.

No members of the McGee family were in the court room.

Brandishing weapons, two kidnapers, alleged by the state to have been Walter McGee and Clarence Stevens, the latter a fugitive, forced their way into the McGee home May 27 as Miss McElroy was taking a bath.

"Come out of there or I'll shoot through the door," one of the men commanded.

"Get a dress on, you're going with us," he said as the young woman opened the door.

Remaining calm, Miss McElroy asked what the men proposed to do.

"We're going to kidnap you," said the leader, identified by Miss McElroy as Walter McGee. "We are going to make your father pay $50,000 for you."

The kidnapers took her to a cottage near Shawnee, Kansas, and chained her to the wall of a squalid basement room which she shared with some chickens.

The negotiations were opened with her father, H. F. McElroy. At his request, nothing was carried in the newspapers until he had arranged for her safe release thirty hours later. Informed McElroy could not pay more, the kidnapers accepted $30,000 ransom. The city manager personally turned over the money to the abductors along a lonely Wyandotte county, Kansas, road.

Immediately after Miss McElroy was released, an intensive police search got under way. A tip brought McGee under suspicion. Interception of a telegram at Leavenworth, Kansas, which dealt with plans to trade a motor car, resulted in McGee's arrest at Amarillo, Texas, June 1.

The same day Clarence Click was arrested in Kansas City, Kansas, and McGee's brother, George, later was arrested at Roanoke, Va.

More than half the ransom was recovered from the three men arrested.

At the trial, Miss McElroy disclosed that just prior to her release the kidnapers demanded that she disrobe, saying they wished to make certain she was not carrying away any evidence which might serve police in identifying them.

When she insisted she "would rather die than do that," the demand was not pressed.

Bull Fight Divided Into

Three Acts Like a Play

A bull fight can be said to be a play, divided into three acts. Pageantry is added to the dramatic spectacle by a parade of all the characters before the play begins. The first act is the one which generally disturbs the foreign tourist. This is the act of the picadors mounted on their miserable-looking horses, armed with a long lance. The second act is when the banderilleros appear on the scene. By this time the dead or crippled horses have been removed from the arena, and very often the tourist is making for the exit, ashamed of having entered the bull ring at all. If he stays on he has decided that it is the most brutal and disgusting affair and a disgrace to civilization, and refuses to recognize the art and technique which exists in the second and third acts.

The matador appears for the third act. He is the principal character in the dramatic spectacle. With a muleta, a sort of red cape, he executes a series of "passes" which all have their special names to the crowd. The slightest slip, and the matador is flung in the air on the long horns, as if he were a toy. It all happens quickly. There is no referee's whistle to control the game, the bull continues to gore the matador until others of his team rush with brightly colored capes to attract the bull from its victim.

Woman Was Originator of Father's Day Observance

Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Wash., was the originator of Father's day. She began her movement back in 1910, as a tribute to her own father, William J. Smart, a G. A. R. veteran, who had reared his own motherless group alone. Mrs. Dodd drew up a petition addressed to the ministerial association of her home city urging such constructive teaching from the pulpit as would point out the importance of a father's place in the home.

Newspapers helped to launch the movement but did not treat the subject seriously. Congressman J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania and later Congressman Snell of New York introduced resolutions in congress to set aside a Father's day for a national observance, but nothing came of their efforts.

Then the National Greeting Card association and the tobacco dealers of the nation came to the rescue. Their efforts made Father's day—the third Sunday in June—a day of nationwide observance.

"Thunderer of Waters"

"The Thunderer of Waters" was the old Indian name for Niagara falls; the superstitious natives of the United States and Canada believed that the Great Spirit lived within its bounds. Guides at the falls relate that each year the Indians made a sacrifice to the spirit of the spectacle by sending the fairest maiden of the tribe over the falls in a canoe laden with fruit and spoils of the chase. They believed by so doing they could appease the wrath of the "Thunderer of the Waters."

Italian Fliers To Take Long Hop

Shoal Harbor, N. F., July 27 (AP).—Gen. Italo Balbo's force of Italian seaplane aviators rested today in anticipation of a 1,500-mile over-seas hop on their homeward journey from America.

Their air minister said they would take off Friday for Ireland, by the northern route, the longest two-way passage between the continents.

All but one of the 24 seaplanes came down here before noon yesterday after flying the 500 miles from Shedin, N. B., in about four hours.

The other ship, commanded by Capt. Umberto Roris, was forced by a faulty water pump to descend at Victoria Harbor, Prince Edward Island. A new pump was installed and the plane was expected to join the flotilla today.

The flotilla was greeted on arrival by thousands of enthusiastic persons. Vice Admiral E. A. R. Plunkett, Ernest Drax, commandant of the British squadron in North American and West Indian waters, flew from St. John's to meet the Italians.

A $2,000,000 courthouse for Jackson county, Missouri, will be built in Kansas City.

Gangsters Murder "Angel Face" Carr

Chicago, July 27 (AP)—Accused by what they considered a distinct challenge to their new drive on gunmen, police today began an intensive search for three who put "Angel Face" Carr to death.

Disregarding the fact that children were at play on the sidewalks opposite 182 Olson avenue on Chicago's northwest side, one of the gunmen caught up with "Angel Face" as he ran along the street, pressed the muzzle of a shotgun against his head and fired.

The shooting of Carr yesterday came at a time when Chief Justice John P. Ryland of the criminal court was mobilizing additional jurors for a war on gunmen, occasioned by the recent slaying of three policemen, one of whom was shot to death in a courtroom.

Judge Ryland's action took the form of an appeal for volunteer jurors to serve during the summer vacation with a slogan of "no molly-coddling of gunmen."

State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney said he welcomed the judge's action and would cancel vacations of his assistants to enter into a vigorous campaign of prosecution.

Carr, described by police as a thin runner and blunder, attempted to flee, as one of three men jumped out of a small motor car and approached him, but was not fast enough. When he stumbled his finger fired. A companion, with him at the time, however, made his escape, as did the gunman.

CARR DAMAGED BY CRASH AT STONE RIDGE THIS MORNING

A Ford car, owned and operated by William M. Flynn of Monticello and containing besides himself his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Flynn, was damaged in a collision at Stone Ridge this morning. According to Mr. Flynn's report the accident occurred when another car was driven from a side street and the driver apparently failed to see the Flynn car or hear the horn. It is stated that no one was injured. The Flynn were on their way to Massachusetts.

Denounces German Treatment of Jews

London, July 27 (AP)—A denunciation of the treatment of Jews in Germany, uttered by Commander Oliver Locker-Lampson in introducing a bill for promoting and commanding opportunities of citizenship in Palestine for Jews deprived of citizenship elsewhere, created a stir in political circles today.

Prof. Albert Einstein, the eminent scientist, who at present is a guest of the commander, listened to the speech from a visitors' gallery, and was cheered by members of Parliament.

Declaring it was essential to build a minority, Commander Locker-Lampson asserted: "The great German people have been misled."

"Their leaders in Germany have not driven out her cut throats and her blackguards. She had chosen the cream of her culture and has suppressed it."

"She has even turned upon her most glorious citizen, Albert Einstein, who is the supreme example of the selfless intellectual."

"Today Einstein is without a home. When asked to write his name in a visitors' book in England and asked to add his address, he had to write, (without any)."

"The Huns have stolen his savings. Roadhogs and racketeers of Europe have plundered his place. They have even taken away his violin. The man who, beyond all others, approximates a citizen of the world, is without a home. How proud we must be to offer him temporary shelter."

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, July 27 (AP)—State Department of Agriculture and Markets—The following quotations represent prices on sales by commission merchants and other original receivers on the New York city downtown wholesale district up to 8 a. m.

Hudson Valley tomatoes were steady. Carriers of fancy containing 120 and 144 tomatoes jobbed out at $1.50-$2.

Green corn was plentiful especially from New Jersey and nearby areas. The bulk of the offerings showed ordinary and poor quality and the market was weak.

Supplies from the Hudson Valley continued light and sales on various white and yellow varieties were reported at 75 cents-$1 a bushel.

Orange county and upper New Jersey celery, in the rough, packed in two-thirds crate, jobbed out at principally $1.75-$2.50. Whereas bunched celery of one dozen stalks ranged from 10-15 cents.

Price changes on upstate Big Boston lettuce and Romaine were small. Most consignments showed ordinary and poor quality and condition.

Crates of two dozen heads of lettuce peddled out at mainly 25-50 cents, occasionally 75 cents while inferior sold down to 15 cents. Romaine realized 20-65 cents.

Green pea arrivals were moderate from upstate and fairly liberal from the Pacific coast. Jobbing sales on the best state peas were made at 75 cents-$1 per bushel. Pacific coast peas realized $1-$1.37 1/2.

Fruits: Huckleberries: New York upstate, too few offerings. Pennsylvania, quart basket, 8c-15c, mostly 10c-12c.

Pears: Hudson Valley, Clappa Favorite, bushel basket or tub, $1.25-50, small and poorer 75c-$1. Half bushel basket, 75c-85c, a few as high as 90c, small and poorer 50c-65c. Various other early varieties, half bushel basket, 50c-75c; bushel basket, 75c-$1.25.

Peaches: Hudson Valley, twelve quart climax basket early varieties, small size 25c-35c; southern bushel basket, Elberta, $1-$1.75; Georgia Belle 75c-$1.25; Hale $1.50-$2.25.

Plums: Hudson Valley, quart basket, early variety mostly 25c.

Red raspberries: Hudson Valley, pint baskets, wide range in quality and condition, 8c-15c, mostly 10c-12c, some poorer as low as 5c.

Apples: Hudson valley, bushel basket, yellow, transparent N. Y. U. S. Grade No. 1, 2 1/2 inch and upward, best $1.50; 2 1/2 inch and upward $1-$1.25; 1 1/2 inch and upward 75c; unclassified, 2 inch and upward 50c-75c. Various other varieties bushel basket No. 1, 1 1/2 inch and upward 50c-$1; half bushel basket 25c-50c.

Blackberries: Hudson valley, too few offerings to define market quotations. New Jersey, quart basket 7c-15c, best 12c-15c.

Cherries: Hudson Valley, sour varieties, quart basket, red 10c-12c, black 5c-10c, mostly 7c-9c. Four quart basket, red 30c-50c, mostly 40c-45c; black 25c-40c, mostly 30c-35c. Twelve quart climax basket, black 75c-$1, mostly 85c-$1.

Currents: Hudson Valley, quart basket, red 7c-9c, a few as high as 10c, some poorer as low as 5c.

Gooseberries: Hudson Valley, quart basket, 10c-15c, poorer 7c-9c.

Paid Firemen Hosts To Orphans Today

Today was a gala one for the children of the Industrial Home. They were the guests of the Kingston Paid Firemen's Association on an auto ride and picnic, which was enjoyed.

At 10 o'clock the little folks left the Home in cars donated by the firemen for a ride through the Catskill Mountains. Returning from the ride the children were brought to Kingston Point Park for a picnic.

Loading the parade were C. Stow and Henry Bernhardt, motorcyclists, and their sturdy boys.

Prudential Plans Participation in Benefits

Supervisors of the Kingston district of the Prudential Insurance Company announced that they will participate in the movement to reduce working hours and, if possible, will more men to work.

Mr. Post states that beginning Monday the district office on the Kingston district, which includes business offices at Saugerties, Catskill, Delhi and Marquetteville, will go on a 40-hour week and it is hoped that some may be made for a few more hours. He adds that there will be no reduction in salaries.

The "Tummy" Makes Its Debut

New York—Each season or so, fashion decides on accentuating some portion of anatomy. Once in a while she goes in for a frank and free outline of the entire form, but more often it amuses her to emphasize bust, hips, diaphragm, and so on. And now what do you suppose it is? That stomach you have probably been battling in order to get rid of.

In a recent report from Paris of what was being worn during the Grande Semaine, and therefore supplies a clue as to what to expect at the fall openings, our correspondent says this:

"Waistlines are at normal, but even blouses are apt to have vertical seams running under the arm, under the bust at either side of the front, and even at either side of the back so that while bodices remain simple every bit of extra fullness is taken away. Because of this and of the smooth hipline, the curve of the stomach is plainly visible in many costumes, even for daytime, although it is naturally accented in the evening. This also gets accent from waistlines which mount at front and dip at back in the channel manner; and altogether this curving abdomen has occasioned quite a little comment."

Don't infer from this that it means you may discard that foundation garment which is such a help in giving your figure the desired line. It only means that you must choose the more flexible foundations, that is, if you decide to give your tummy a break instead of doing your uttermost to suppress it.

A model such as sketched gives an excellent idea of how revealing an all-concealing garment can be. This one has its own jacket, although you would never think of that off-the-shoulder arrangement as being part of a jacket. It fits snugly enough for the bodice, nevertheless there is a low-cut bodice under it, the jacket being just another of those obliging arrangements that make it possible to get day and night service out of the same frock.

Jack Curley of New York City is numbered among the guests at the William Windrum country home. Mr. Curley is a brother-in-law of Paul Morten, an annual summer visitor to Shokan who also is spending a few days at Mr. Windrum's.

Mr. and Mrs. George Salgami are rusticated at the Winchell boarding house on the corner. Mr. Salgami is proprietor of a flower shop on Park avenue, New York City.

Members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church are making extensive preparations for their annual fair to be held on Wednesday, August 9.

Although many sportsmen are complaining of the poor fishing this season, Col. Thomas A. Spencer of the north boulevard continues to make good catches of trout from local streams. The other day the colonel and J. A. Hartvig, a neighbor, went out and got 22 fine trout, and recently Mr. Spencer laid 25 speckled beauties on the kitchen table of his friend, A. W. Crane, in accordance with his policy of giving the larger portion of his catches away to friends.

Miss Denise Lynch is spending the summer at the Lynch family's country home, known many years ago as the Henry Bogart place.

On July 26, 1894, the Shokan M. E. Church fair was held in the Ladew Hall in the old village. The Rev. Harry Cornford, an Englishman, by birth and training, was the Methodist pastor at that time. The Ladew Hall was a long building, located in the rear of the M. E. Church though belonging to the Reformed Church across the road. The upstairs part was devoted to a stage, auditorium and kitchen, while below were the Reformed church and social affairs in the hall, hitched their teams. Unlike most country church sheds, those under the hall were provided with swinging doors, which being closed on cold days, afforded better protection for the horses.

The Shokan volunteer fire company's apparatus is now stabled at Henry Carlsson's Tonche Mountain Rest camp, a few steps from the suspended locomotive wheel tire which is used for local fire alarm purposes.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mahr of Brooklyn are spending a vacation at the summer home in the village of Mrs. Mahr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wallerstein. Mrs. Mahr is a niece of Mrs. Raymond Osterhout of Brown Station.

L. S. Spencer of Bridgeport, Conn., is visiting his father, Thomas S. Spencer, of the west end of the village.

Stanley Shaw, a former Shokan boy who now resides in Kingston, called on some of his Shokan friends last Sunday.

Joseph Reilly, one of Shokan's summer residents of long standing, is spending a few days in New York City.

The hard thunder shower of Monday afternoon and the steady rain on Tuesday apparently have broken the drought greatly to the relief of the people of the Ashokan country. The grass is green for the first time in many weeks and villagers are tending up lawnmowers which have been practically no service thus far in the summer.

Michigan's First Bounty Law Michigan's first bounty law was on wolves—enacted in 1888, providing for a bounty of $5 for a full grown wolf, or $4 for a wolf's whelp under three months. This law was amended in 1895, to raise the bounty to $20 and $15 respectively. In 1907, this became $25 and $15. In 1908, up to $50 and $25; in 1909, up to $75 and $30; in 1910, up to $100 and $35 for a full grown wolf and $25 for each wolf's whelp under six months.

GRAND UNION

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 27 (AP)—Financial markets ended down to a "dignified firmness" today with sentiment generally optimistic but without the hysterical enthusiasm of previous weeks.

Stocks, headed by the steel, rail, "oil" issues and various specialties moved up fractionally to more than 1 point in the early proceedings. There was considerable backing and filling. The ticker tape came almost to a standstill on moderate profit-taking recessions. Renewed strength of grains on the restricted Chicago market, together with a further advance at Winnipeg, was a cheerful influence. Cotton was up around a bale and carrier loans started in the bond market. The dollar soared in foreign exchange transactions, gaining 7 cents against the pound sterling at one time. Dollar quotations, however, seemingly were ignored as a market influence.

Progress of ship-building contracts gave Bethlehem Steel shares a whirl for gains of around 1 1/2 points, while U. S. Steel, National and Republic Steels advanced 1 to more than 2. Rail issues up 1 to 3 included Union Pacific, Delaware & Hudson, N. Y. Central, Lehigh Valley, Santa Fe, Erie, Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio. Gains of 1 to around 2 were recorded by Case, Deere and International Harvester and advances of 1 to 2 were shown by American Telephone, U. S. Smelting, Western Union, Cerrito, De Pazo, National Builders, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Crown Cork and Owens-Illinois. The gold stocks were quiet after their flurry of yesterday.

There were some reports that Europe had again stepped in as a buyer of stocks in this market after having unloaded large quantities of securities last week.

Bearish operations for the continuation of the "secondary reaction," which were quite voluminous at the beginning of this week, were said to have dwindled considerably with many "short" traders apparently disposed to adopt a neutral attitude for the moment in order to gauge the character of renewed public participation.

Quotations given by Parker, Mr. Elroy & Co., members, N. Y. Stock Exchange, 120 Broadway, New York City; branch office, Stuyvesant Hotel.

Bollingworth's Proxy

By R. T. M. SCOTT

Bollingworth's proxy was a valuable document. It would be worth millions at a board meeting in New York the following day. Jeffries and Sanderson motored out to Bollingworth's country house on Long Island to argue against each other for the document but, of course, they did not travel in the same car. Fat, old Jeffries took Aurelia Smith along with him to safeguard so valuable a paper. If he obtained it, up to the minute that it would be voted on the next day.

"I'll get the paper and you will keep it," rumbled and chuckled old Jeffries. "Together we'll get Sanderson and his dirty crew."

As the two entered the big, country house, a female shriek rang out and Smith's long legs carried him up a flight of stairs without their customary indolence. In a back room he found a pretty maid with her foot caught in a steel-jawed rat trap. He wrenched the jaws apart.

The business meeting occurred in the music room on the ground floor. It had to be short as Bollingworth was leaving by plane within an hour on his way to California. There was nothing immediately for Smith to do. He shook hands with Bollingworth and Sanderson and got their names mixed up as deaf people do—or stupid people, or people too lazy to think much. Few people could believe that so indolent a man was observing everything with almost photographic accuracy.

While the three men gathered around a little table, Smith wandered to the piano and ran his fingers over the keys, but stopped quickly so as not to disturb the conference. He stretched himself in a chair and smoked while he listened to the rumble and chuckle of his employer in argument against the rapping harshness of Sanderson's voice.

At the end of an hour Bollingworth signed a paper and Jeffries had won. Bollingworth had left the house at once after ordering luncheon to be served to his three guests. The proxy lay upon the table beside a heavy blue envelope. Jeffries inserted it in the envelope and sealed the flap.

At that moment the roar of a plane sounded outside. Jeffries dropped the envelope on the table and turned toward the window. Sanderson looked away also. The roar of the plane became louder and all three men walked to the window near the piano. Smith and Jeffries approached the window in advance of Sanderson. When they returned to the table the envelope was gone. There were other blue envelopes in a rack on the table, but they were all empty.

Sanderson laughed vindictively and offered to let Jeffries search him. The offer was accepted and Jeffries found nothing, while Smith wandered to the piano and again ran his fingers over the keys while he frowned as if trying to think. Suddenly he turned around on the piano bench as if an idea had at least been born, and said that he ought to make certain that the maid had put antiseptic on her foot so that she would not be poisoned by the rat trap.

"I didn't think I brought you out here to fiddle with maids' ankles," grumbled Jeffries. "Bollingworth is to the air and we can't get another proxy. We're dished."

Smith shrugged his shoulders and rang the bell. The butler summoned the injured maid who limped to Smith and talked in low tones with him while she secretly received a ten-dollar bill. The maid limped out of the room and shortly after she returned, Smith joined Jeffries and Sanderson in the hall where Jeffries had ordered his car.

"I can't understand you, Smith," said Jeffries, as the two walked toward the front door, leaving Sanderson behind.

"Have a little patience," returned Smith softly and opened the door to tell Jeffries' chauffeur to drive away and come back in half an hour.

Jeffries looked his astonishment as the car roared off. The two stood for a few minutes in the doorway. Jeffries too surprised to speak. Suddenly a yell sounded inside the house.

"Come on!" called Smith as he dashed back to the music room.

Beside the piano stood Sanderson with the rat trap dangling from his hand while he cursed. Blood dripped from his hand to the floor.

"I knew that he must have taken the envelope from the table," explained Smith, "but I did not know where he had put it until I touched the piano keys the second time and found that three strings were dead."

Sanderson, desperately helpless, let Smith pry the trap from his hand.

"The maid brought me the trap," continued Smith, "and I placed it on the strings, under which he had slipped the envelope, and covered it with my handkerchief."

Then it was that Sanderson struggled to turn defeat into victory. He reached out into the piano and snatched out the blue envelope. With an exclamation of rage he painfully used his injured hand to tear the envelope into tiny pieces.

Jeffries started toward the mad-dog man but Smith pulled him back. "I substituted an empty envelope when the two of you first turned toward the window," he said. "The proxy has been in my pocket all the time."

As Old Salt Professor For continuity of industry, Montgomery, England, probably holds the record. After collected there for a moment, he said that the chief business of England was the chief business of England.

Local Death Record

A six months Mind Mame will be offered Saturday morning at 7 o'clock at St. Mary's Church for the repose of the soul of the late James H. Krauer.

Funeral services for John, infant son of Antonio and Mary Patarial, were held at Wood Brothers' chapel this morning. Interment was in Montrose cemetery. The child died Wednesday at the family home, 80 Broadway.

Emma A. Herring, wife of James Herring of Mombaccus, died at her home, Monday, July 24, at the age of 82 years. Funeral services will be held at the funeral home of H. B. Humiston in Kerkhouson, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, standard time. Interment will be in the Pine Bush cemetery.

Frederick J. Kohler of 19 South Wall street died suddenly at the Kingston Hospital this morning. Funeral from his late home Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment in Wilkewick Cemetery. Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus F. Kohler; two brothers, Alfred A. and Raymond J., both of Kingston. He was a member of Kingston Lodge, No. 10, F. & A. M., which will hold services at his home Friday at 3 p. m., also at the Elks Club, and the Church of the Redeemer. For 10 years Mr. Kohler was a shirt-trimmer at the Fuller factory.

The funeral of Harry Lang was held from his late residence, 90 Ravine street, this morning at 9 o'clock and at 9:30 at St. Mary's Church where a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. William H. Kennedy. The funeral was large with a profusion of flowers and many spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards, which showed the high esteem at which the deceased was held. The bearers were Edwin Murphy, Arthur Dittus, Clare Uhl, Leo McAndrew, Thomas Daley, Charles Murphy. Interment was in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery, where Father Kennedy pronounced final absolution. Wednesday evening the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Church, under the direction of the Rev. Paul J. Burns, went to the home and recited the Rosary.

CONNELLY ON FORDHAM UNDERGRADUATE HONOR ROLL

The Rev. Charles J. Deane, dean of Fordham College, New York city, announced yesterday that 148 undergraduates had won places on the 1932-33 honor roll.

The list, as published in today's New York Times, contains the name of James G. Connelly of 85 West O'Reilly street. Mr. Connelly was awarded the honor in Group II which represents an average of at least 85 per cent for the academic year. He is a member of the Class of 1935.

SHOKAN

Shokan, July 27.—Mrs. Edna Ferry and children of Danbury, Conn., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Markle. Mrs. Ferry before her marriage was Miss Edna Markle of Shokan and Glen Cove.

Mrs. Howard Brooks is spending some time in Olivera where she has employment.

John Hillburn and Tom Kolber of Boiceville have employment on the new county road construction job near here.

The tennis doubles tournament at the community playground court on church hill opened Tuesday with the following players participating in the initial games: William Tueling, Jr., Mrs. Samuel Friedman, Miss Verna Giles and Samuel Friedman. It is expected that by Saturday the tourney will be in full swing, with a large number of players in action.

Mr. and Mrs. George Becker of The Bronx are spending two weeks at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Krott on the Tonche Mountain road.

Otto Grossman is doing a good business at taking his numerous city guests down to the weir swimming pool and returning them to the Grossman farm-house.

The price of feed advances by leaps and bounds, with oats being quoted locally at $1.70 per 50-lb. sack; scratch feed, $1.30, and laying mash, $2.00. As the hill farmers of the north reservoir country are not heavy grain growers, these rising figures tend to hit the old pocket-book quite a wallop. Eggs made another feeble jump in price and are now bringing 25 cents a dozen when taken in trade at the village stores.

On Sunday, July 28, 1912, a large barn at Atwood, just over the Oliver-Marbletown line, belonging to the H. S. Kurbach Company, Catakill Aqueduct contractors was burned together with one male, several wagons and a quantity of hay. Twenty-three head of horses and mules were saved from the flames. The loss was put at $2,000.

Mrs. Joanna Van Kleeck of Kingston has been visiting at the home of her relatives, William Peroneus and Mrs. James Giles.

Alonso Davis, heating proprietor of Davis's Express, is now including 200 lb. cakes of artificial ice in the cargo of commodities which he daily brings from Kingston into several communities of Olive. Mr. Davis helps his father, Lester B. Davis, well known Tongore dairy farmer, with the milking of 12 cows, after which he goes to Krumville and loads up his truck with milk and is at Winchell's Corner in Shokan by eight o'clock farmer's time. Returning from Kingston, Alonzo is back here before noon and on his way to make deliveries in the south and west parts of the town.

The village presents quite an animated scene these days, what with a fairly large number of city boarders strolling the main street and groups of sightseeing motorists stopping for souvenirs and refreshments on the corner. Several of those who accommodate city guests have had a satisfactory run of business thus far in the season.

Foreman Seymour Winne of Ashokan had a crew of 11 local men working on the new county road extension job on Wednesday and he expects to employ a total of approximately 25 men as soon as the work gets into full swing. Considerable fill work is being done near the George Burrows farm-house where the widening process calls for many loads of stone in order to bring the low spot at that point up to grade. Old stone walls on the Ray Cudney and Burrows farms are being raised and hauled away in dump trucks for the fill jobs. Pressed steel culverts are being put in along the right of way for the new pavement which will extend from the Tonche brook north to Alva Buley's house.

A passing motorist, whose car developed engine trouble in the village center Sunday morning, probably became a little embarrassed at the attention he received from numerous city visitors who were attracted to his plight by the incessant blowing of the horn on the car due to defective wiring. The longer the noise kept up, the larger grew the crowd of interested New Yorkers who felt, perhaps, that here was real "big city stuff," which in lieu of a steam shovel at work or a bit of fastness between two taxi drivers was duly appreciated by them as being well worthwhile.

On July 25, 1913, a report of the appraisers of the estate of the late Ira F. Davis of Kingston, showed a net value of about $5,000. Ferris Davis and Northwell Everett, both former residents of Olive, were the executors. Mr. Davis, whose old home was on the west side of the Knopow creek, for many years was an active member of the Shokan M. E. Church.

Henry Carleton has equipped the grounds of his tourist camp in the east end of the village with benches and tables for the convenience of those occupying his one-room cabins and others who stop at the attractive spot for picnic parties.

The friends in other communities of Mrs. Anna C. Secor of the Tonche Mountain neighborhood will be glad to learn that this estimable lady is enjoying good health at the age of 82 years and is still doing her share of the work at the Secor farm-house. Mrs. Secor, though a city girl by birth, has resided in northeastern Olive for more than 60 years, the greater part of which time has been spent on the farm where she now resides with her sons, John and Edwin, the latter of whom is postmaster at Ashokan. She is the widow of Robert Secor, who served with Co. I, Twentieth Regiment, during the Civil War.

Great preparations are being made by Henry L. Carleton of the Tonche Mountain filling station and camp for the big annual clam bake which he is putting on at his place in the east end of the village Sunday afternoon, July 30. Mr. Carleton, a genial host if ever there was one, is offering for the occasion a menu of clams, broth, chicken, sweet potatoes, sweet corn, celery, rolls and watermelon, together with beer on draught. The bake starts at four o'clock daylight time. Everyone, including the ladies, is cordially invited to come out to the Tonche and enjoy a fine meal and a good time.

Reading Enjoyed At Kiwanis Session

Two interesting readings delighted members of the Kiwanis Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel this noon, when Harold B. Stein of Buffalo, associate director of the Y. M. C. A. Camp at Glenrie entertained.

The meeting next Thursday will be an evening affair. Kiwanis joining with Rotary to meet with the Kingston Patrolmen's Association when two of its members are to be honored for 25 years of service.

Guests at the meeting were Adjutant W. N. Wood of Kingston, A. Molyneux of Kingston, and Maynard Strawbridge of New York city.

Music for the day was in charge of Paul Zucca, accompanied at the piano by Danny Bittner. Mr. Stein, who was introduced by Clarence Schoonmaker, gave "Noah and Jonah and Captain John Smith," by Don Marquis, labeled as the "biggest fishing story ever written," and "The Highwayman," by Alfred Noyes. Both were greatly enjoyed and Mr. Stein received great applause for an entertaining program.

KINGSTON MASONIC LODGE HAS ACCEPTED INVITATION.

The master and wardens of Kingston Lodge, No. 10, F. & A. M., on behalf of themselves and members of the lodge, have accepted the invitation extended by the minister, elders, deacons and members of the First Dutch Church of Kingston, to attend the unveiling ceremonies to be held at the church at 3 p. m. Sunday, July 30. The ceremonies will mark the unveiling and dedication of a tablet in commemoration of the visit of George Washington to Kingston in 1752.

FURTHER ADJOURNMENT IN GUADAGNOLA INQUEST

A further adjournment for one week was taken in the Guadagnola inquest which had been adjourned until today before Coroner W. N. Conner. The inquest was held to inquire into the facts surrounding the death of little Louis Guadagnola, who was struck and fatally injured by a car at Washington avenue and North Front street on May 21. At a previous hearing before Coroner Conner testimony was taken and an adjournment was taken until today to give an opportunity to summon any additional witnesses desired.

Injured in Collision.

Frank Montelone of Highland was brought to the Kingston Hospital at 1:30 this morning, suffering from injuries received when his car, going south, collided with a milk truck at West Park. He was treated by Dr. F. A. Johnston, who found him suffering from a fractured pelvis and lacerations about the head. His condition is reported to be good. Montelone's car was badly damaged. The truck sustained little injury.

Misconducting Daily

By BROOKE PETER CHURCH

A mother watching her children at play one day was shocked at the brutal treatment they gave their dolls.

The number of spankings they gave the poor things was enough to have broken the spirit and even the health of any child, and scolding and crying, shutting up in dark rooms and severe chastises were the only variations of their game.

The mother expostulated with her daughters on the grounds that people hearing them would think that they received the same treatment. For a time things were quiet, but presently violence broke out again.

Of course, it will be said that the children were expressing reaction against their helpless state in the face of adult power and authority;

or they were going through a phase normal to their stage of development and safest when taken out on inanimate objects.

Some of each aspect may be there, but it is not likely that there is a more commonplace reason for this inevitable behavior of children

when playing at life either with their dolls or with one another?

Every-day life is rather dull when relieved in play. If the dolls did exactly what their little mothers did the game would pall for sheer lack of variety.

Drama cannot be built out of this kind of material, and, after all, a child's make-believe is really play-acting.

The child chooses the dramatic material that he knows, for, whether he has felt it or not, he has heard and read of punishment. Out of it he makes the interesting and, to him, gripping scenes of first rate melodrama.

Though to an adult the result may be startling, it satisfies the child's less highly developed sense of emotional expression.

Stories

Willy Nilly Worries

By MARY GRAM BONNER

"Willy Nilly," Willy Nilly said to Rip, the dog. "What are you going to do? You're not going to bite me, are you? I hope, or get the Bears to harm him? We'd only get into more trouble, and we wouldn't want anything like that to happen."

"I'm not going to do anything like that," said Rip. "But he doesn't know about all of us, does he?"

"I don't believe so," answered

Willy Nilly. "I suppose, when he was asking questions about it over here that he was told that I lived with some animals, and I said so too.

I spoke of the Ducks and their pond and he saw you, and maybe he thinks I haven't any others in my animal family."

"No one else knows about this,"

asked Rip.

"He arrived only a little while ago, and the others have not been around. Oh, how can I ever tell them? They'd all be so worried about it."

"This is the worst trouble we've ever had. Do you suppose they could take our Puddle Muddle away from us? I am afraid my word won't count for very much."

"And he said he would smooth over our nice rut, and I suppose he'll tear down Top Notch's shed and General Store and my home and repair shop."

"There, there, don't worry," said

Rip.

"You tell me not to worry when our Puddle Muddle is to be taken away from us?"

"I've ripped things up in the past and made trouble," Rip said. "Now

I want to make it very unpleasant for that stranger. Don't keep me."

Rip trotted off.

"Living Fossil" Am
The discovery of a "living fossil" in Australia emphasizes the age of the man. One hundred million years ago they had developed special order which might well have served as a model for man's.

Agony For 20 Years

PILES

Cure In 20 Days With Doctor's Modern Internal Treatment

When a man is afflicted with piles for 20 years and then finds the right, clean method to get rid of them without surgery, suppositories or cutting—this is the kind of news every thoughtful sufferer should be cheerful about—read this:

A Pittsburgh man writes: "After suffering 20 years I took one bottle of Dr. Leonard's Hem-Roid and my pile trouble entirely disappeared." (Name on request.)

All this happy man did was to take Hem-Roid tablets each day according to directions. The wonderful medicine in these tablets helped Nature do the rest. It's a doctor's successful way to cause blood, bleeding or protruding piles to vanish—no trade torturing surgery for a happy life.

Here's a REAL guarantee—get one bottle of Hem-Roid from McBride Drug Store or any live druggist—take all the tablets as directed—then if you are not completely satisfied with results—your money back.

ROAD BUILDING TO SUPPLY MANY JOBS

Industry Ready to Go When Money is Ready.

Washington.—The braced road building industry is all set to embark on the largest national road building program the world has ever known, declares Charles M. Upham, executive director of the American Road Builders' association.

"The minimum of $400,000,000 made available for road construction by the federal government can be placed at the work without loss of time," says Mr. Upham.

"So far in 1933, road construction has been making time awaiting federal money. Nevertheless, state and local road officials have been getting their plans in readiness.

"Because of this preparedness, the road building industry can be expected to provide immediate employment for thousands and thousands of men.

"The widespread employment offered by road building and its preparedness were recognized in congress by the removal of the limitation on highway funds. By setting a minimum of $400,000,000 for roads, congress has indicated possibly much more than that will be spent for roads. This is gratifying in the face of current road needs evidenced by congestion, accidents, and high motor travel costs in many areas.

"It is indeed fortunate that highway building can again proceed at a rapid pace because news from Detroit and other motor cities indicates a decided pick-up in the automobile market.

"The industrial recovery act not only provides for the road surface improvement but also for bridges, separated highway and street intersections, street improvement, widened roads and streets and all facilities that make for safety and lessened congestion."

U. S. Begins Its Annual Patrol in Bering Sea

Washington.—The Bering sea patrol, famous annual duty of the coast guard along the bleak Alaskan coast, has begun with the cutter Shoabone, flagship of the fleet which guards the shores of the territory.

The patrol, conducted by seven coast guard vessels, has for its main purpose enforcement of international regulations relative to protection of seals, fisheries, and fur bearing animals.

The scope of the patrol, however, extends to various humanitarian functions, such as caring for sick and injured of isolated coastal communities in the northland, and of fishing vessels in Bering sea.

Among its duties are: Transportation of government officials, carrying of the mails, assisting in scientific researches, holding court and inquests, "settling differences between employees and employers."

Other vessels in the patrol are the Shobomiah, Taboe, Chelan, Tallapoosa, Northland, and the patrol boat Alert.

War Horse Jack Rabbits Eat Kansas Auto Tires

Dodge City, Kan.—The "war horse" Jack rabbits have returned to the Kansas prairies. These huge rabbits, which are the size of a small dog and famous for their leaping, are running off the smaller Jacks.

Farmers in the Cimarron breakers say the scarcity of green stuff has developed in the war horses a taste for automobile tires and fresh paint. A ranchman found his truck tires in shreds the other morning. The huge rabbits have been known to tackle a coyote and beat him.

"This is a bad indication," said a long-time resident of the Southwest. "We had a scourge of the war horses just before the World war, and an Indian legend is that they never return unless a war is brewing."

Texas Goat Is Proud Mother of Quadruplets

Ablene, Texas.—Here's something new in the goat-raising industry. A milk goat belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Leverett of Ablene has given birth to quadruplets. The four kids constitute the goat's first family.

Reared For Aged Ferns
Boise, Idaho.—A record in aged ferns is believed to be held by Boise. One plant here re-potted many times. In thirty years old. Two others are twenty-five. The largest one, which attracts many visitors, has hundreds of beautiful fronds, many of which are six feet long.

Shipload of Rum May Rise From Sea

Bozeman, Wash.—Fire water may rise up from the sea if the appearance of mounds at low water in the Quinault river are to be taken as a criterion.

In 1899 the French barque, Ernest Red, was grounded in the mouth of the river in a fog. It was loaded with choice French liquor. In days for some months partook of the cargo, but storms sank the craft.

Storms lately, however, have caused the barque to rise up from the sands again.

Indian rum that although they drank copiously, they consumed only a small portion of the cargo before the boat sank 34 years ago.

Pollet Speaker on Business Vs. Art

Joseph Pollet, former advertising specialist now residing in Woodstock, took business men and artists apart, discussed their component parts with the remains lying about in disarray, and then blended the scattered pieces into a whole, in the manner of a jigsaw puzzle, while the members and guests of the Kingston Rotary Club looked and listened to the edifying performance as the entertainment feature of the local club's weekly meeting yesterday noon in the hotel Governor Clinton.

Mr. Pollet tersely explained, in beginning his talk, that artists were embarrassed to the point of insult when they were referred to as Rotarians, in fact the speaker used even stronger language in getting this diatribe remark before his audience. Mr. Pollet, still speaking vehemently, turned the tables abruptly, and reminded his listeners that business men were likewise wont to grow red in the face when some foolish soul willfully classified them in the category of artist. After establishing these pungent points, Mr. Pollet went on to explain the reason for this sad state of affairs.

According to the speaker, the business man goes outside himself while the artist is constantly drawing himself more and more within himself. The business man is a practical fellow while the artist isn't. The business man needs the public pulse to be successful as he

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to Go

If you feel sore and sick and the night before, don't swallow a lot of pills, natural order, of course, is to get up and get your bowels moving. You can't get up and get your bowels moving if you don't get your bowels moving.

For they can't do it. They only get the bowels and a good movement doesn't get at the cause. The cause for your discomfort, constipation, is in your liver. It should move out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not moving freely, your bowels don't move. It is the cause of all your discomfort. Can't move up your stomach. You have a sick, hot liver and your bowels don't move. You have a sick liver and your bowels don't move. You have a sick liver and your bowels don't move.

There's Plenty To Do When Roosevelt Goes Home

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS—SOUNDS

By NORMAN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—For years Hollywood has trembled at the thought of making pictures in which Mexican "bad men" played heavy roles, and of late the trembling has become so violent that the films have forsworn Mexican villains almost entirely.

In early motion pictures were simpler. The formula for a western required only an American cowboy, an American heroine and a Mexican villain, all three to be acted thoroughly through two reels of chasing. Mexican protests brought about substitution of different ingredients.

Villa in Colloidal

But now the "leading bad man" of Mexico is to reach the screen in Hollywood, his return sanctioned by the Mexican government. Wallace Beery will portray the colorful legend that is Francisco Villa.

It was Wallace Smith, novelist and screen writer, now preparing the screen play with O. H. P. Harrett, who with little difficulty obtained the consent of Mexican authorities for M-G-M to make a picture of the life of the bandit chief.

Smith, artist, former newspaperman, adventurous follower of excitement and enthusiast for all things Mexican, knew Villa personally, "as well, perhaps," he says, "as he could be known personally."

"Even during his lifetime," Smith holds, "Villa was a legend. During years in Mexico I made a study of him, sifted the various anecdotes that are related concerning him—he encouraged the spreading of many tales himself—and I think I arrived as close to the truth about him as one can reach the truth about a legend."

Then The Debut

As soon as plans for a Villa film became known, Hollywood's customary army of "technical experts" besieged the studio for jobs—all of them, it seemed, had known Villa personally.

One, for instance, exhibited a ring Villa had given him. Smith disposed of that easily because, he says, Villa never wore jewelry, and at the time of the supposed gift was not in the region where it was said to have been made.

Another insisted he was Villa's "personal barber." But Smith knew that Villa had no personal barber, and says that a simple ruse so twisted the barber's story that he retreated blushing.

Smith, the artist, has drawn a set of pictures revealing the costumes worn by Villa and his followers, such as Flores the butcher, who loved diamonds and had a mirror in the pocket of his saddle, vain fellow, and Pascal the traitor, whose "made in England" boots were the envy of all.

CHURCH FINANCES CRIPPLED BY CLOSING OF LOCAL BANK

Among the many institutions in Kingston to be badly crippled by the long delayed opening of the National Elster County Bank is St. John's Episcopal Church. When the depression became felt in this as in other churches, the rector, the Rev. W. Porntell Kemper, the organist, Robert Williams and the men of the choir gave up ten per cent of their salaries for the year. During the month of July the entire choir voluntarily gave up their month's salary. During all of his illness, though himself badly handicapped by the bank situation, the rector has paid a large portion of the salaries of his substitutes. The last word received direct from Rector Kemper, now in Pennsylvania, is to the effect that he is making a slow and painful recovery.

A COOLING BREEZE

Your NEW CAR be sure it is MODERN as well as NEW!

just where you want it!

"Fisher Controlled Ventilation"—here's a magic phrase that means more than you can believe till you've experienced it yourself. At a turn of a handle you adjust ventilators—get the breeze just where you want it, and in just the volume you want.

It is really controlled ventilation, you see—and you, yourself, control it, not the speed of the car or the direction of the breeze.

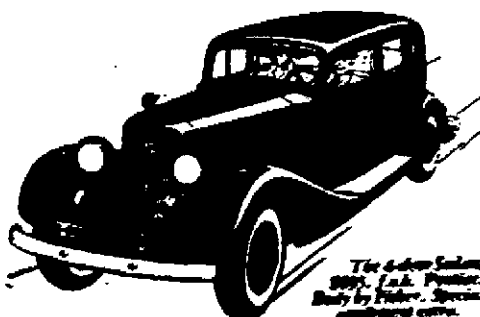

This one feature alone would make Pontiac an outstanding car compared with others at or near its price.

But Pontiac gives more. It is a Straight Eight, with a 77-horsepower engine that gives 78 real miles per hour.

It is a big car—115-inch wheelbase, and due to its balanced weight and design, it gives you safety, comfort, durability.

All this may lead you to think of Pontiac as a costly car. But its first cost is low and as for operating, ask any Pontiac owner, and you'll learn that it is giving 15 miles or more to the gallon.

Try a demonstration. And don't forget that it takes a Straight Eight to give Straight Eight performance. Be sure to try Fisher Controlled Ventilation. You'll be amazed and delighted. No car can be really modern without this comfort feature.

SALICERTES

Sangeries, July 27.—Miss Nettle Longendyke of Schenectady, N. Y., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kamp on Elm street.

Herbert DuBois has returned from the Benedictine Hospital, where he underwent an operation.

Louis Krisher of Hudson was a caller on friends in this village Thursday.

The Barclay Heights Electric Shop has discontinued its showrooms and place of business on Main street. W. H. Trumpbour will hereafter be located at his home in Asbury on the Kings Highway.

Phillip Schneider and Clyde Miller have opened a meat and vegetable market on Parition and Clermont streets. Both young men are well known and have the well wishes of their many friends.

At the meeting of the village board of trustees Friday evening Fred Hess of Prospect street was awarded the contract to cart ashes from the village building. Contractor George S. McNally was appointed to the office of village assessor, succeeding the late Fred Kraus. The village street force has been suspended until further notice. There is one truck driver on relief work.

James Williams was arrested by Officer Mills for panhandling and after telling Judge Bennett that he came from Pittsburgh, Pa., was ordered to leave.

Louis Laufer of Brooklyn was arrested by Chief of Police Richter for violation of the village traffic rules. Judge Bennett fined him $5.

The official opening of the Lions playgrounds on upper Washington avenue was held Wednesday evening. Dr. Harlan Page of Newburgh was the speaker. He holds the office of deputy governor of this district. A parade was held with the American Legion Drum Corps furnishing the music.

The condition of Charles Lamb, who is seriously ill in the Kingston Hospital, was reported to be about the same Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Myer of Brooklyn and a former resident of this place is the guest of relatives in this village.

Miss Betty Waye of Market street is spending some time with her aunt in Port Ewen.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Coons and son of Hightstown, N. J., are visiting Mrs. Jessie Gillespie on Backley street.

A. L. Decker of Catskill, spent the past week visiting his daughters and sister in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dederick of Flushing, L. I. are visiting Mrs. Gilbert Dederick on Clermont street.

Miss Margaret Emerick and Miss Helen Emerick of Parition street have returned from the World's Fair in Chicago, Ill.

The Misses Mildred and Marjorie Easton of Elster avenue, who have been attending the World's Fair in Chicago, have returned to their home.

The Rev. and Mrs. John Neander and son, David, of Main street were in Albany Saturday attending the funeral of his nephew, who was drowned in the Hudson river.

On Wednesday, August 2 there will be an election of three school trustees for this district with polls at the Firemen's Hall on Parition street. The terms of Joseph W. Frankel, John T. Washburn and Mrs. Floyd B. Garrison expire.

William Wynkoop of Livingston street and Warren K. Myer of the Kings Highway, who were injured last Friday evening are reported to be doing as well as may be expected. Both men were struck by an automobile while walking along the roadside on the Palenville-Saugerties highway. Mr. Wynkoop received a badly fractured jaw and lacerated muscles in the calf of his leg and was conveyed to the Benedictine hospital. Dr. B. W. Gifford is the attending physician.

Sunday evening the members of the Congregational church voted to close the church during the month of August. The Sunday school will be held each Sunday at the usual hour of ten o'clock.

Official Acceptance Of Job Plan Begins

First of the Agreement Blankets Being Distributed—Thousands Will Comply Immediately by Mailing Back Their Forms.

Washington, July 27 (AP).—American businessmen today began recording official, definite pledges to do their part in President Roosevelt's mighty re-employment effort.

The first of the agreement blankets which are to go to 5,000,000 employers for signature were being distributed, along with addressed envelopes that will take back to Washington the individual promises to increase purchasing power by boosting pay and providing more jobs through shorter hours for those now employed.

The agreement forms not delivered today will be taken around by the mail carriers tomorrow and next day so that by August 1, storekeepers, industrialists, garagemen, bankers, and every conceivable type of employer may present to his postmaster evidence that he has put the agreement in effect, receiving in exchange the blue eagle and the legend: "We do our part."

Already President Roosevelt and Hugh S. Johnson, his industrial recovery lieutenant, had definite evidence from an avalanche of telegrams that thousands would comply immediately, mailing back their forms today.

Meantime, Johnson worked to remove the hesitation of many who found that arbitrary interpretations of the agreement's clauses would affect their business seriously.

Last night, he and his principal assistants began working out a way to interpret the most knotty questions. They promised to announce decision today.

Several thousand civic and commercial units which have volunteered to lead nation-wide campaigning to put the plan across received instructions to set up militarized organizations with a general and lieutenant-general, the latter a woman, in each community, heading a big staff.

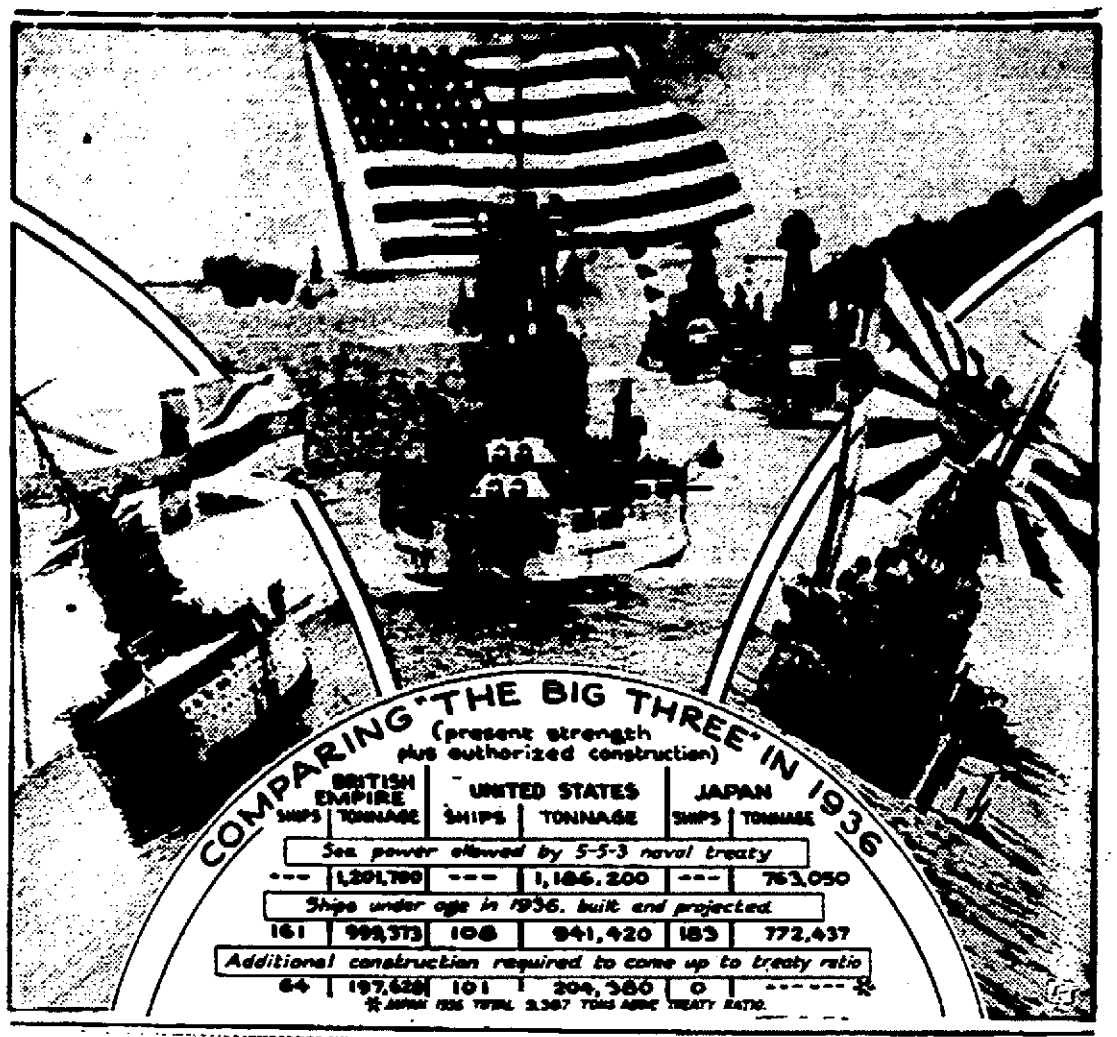

These units will step into action three or four weeks hence. In the final week of the drive they will make a block by block canvass to make sure of compliance by pledge-bound employers, to get after any who have not joined, to survey the unemployed, determine what work they are suited to, and help place them.

Coincidentally with this work on the emergency drive, Johnson and his officials began hammering into shape codes on which no suitable agreements was reached in open hearing and making arrangements for a steady succession of public sessions on more of these lasting compacts of industry. One such code for shipbuilders was promulgated last night by the President.

Japan Speeds To 'Treaty Navy'

Expiration, in 1936, of the naval pact prescribing a 5-5-3 ratio for the navies of Great Britain, the United States and Japan, respectively, will find Japan built to the limit, according to her current program. The two other powers, on the basis of present announced building plans, will be short of the goal.

How One Woman Lost 20 Pounds of Fat

Lost Her Double Chin—Lost Her Prominent Hips—Lost Her Sluggishness.

Gained Physical Vigor—Gained in Vivaciousness—Gained a Shapely Figure

Thousands of women are getting fat and losing their appeal just because they do not know what to do.

If you are fat how would you like to lose it and at the same time gain in physical charm and acquire a clean, clear skin and eyes that sparkle with buoyant health?

And gain in energy and activity?

Why not do what thousands of women have done to get rid of pounds of unwanted fat? Take one half a teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast and keep it up for 30 days. You can help the action of Kruschen Salts by cutting down on pastry, fatty meats and going light on potatoes, butter and cream. Then weigh yourself and see how many pounds you have lost.

You'll have the surprise of your life and best of all a bottle of Kruschen Salts that will last you for 4 weeks costs but little—only 40 cents.

You'll probably say it's worth one hundred dollars after you take the first bottle. Kruschen Salts are a blend of 4 separate salts your system must have if you are to enjoy good health. Ask any druggist for a bottle of Kruschen Salts and start to lose fat today.—Advt.

SNAPPY MILK DRINKS

Here are more delicious and cooling milk drinks recommended by the Consumers Information Service of the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets.

These can't be beat for flavor:

HONEY BLOSSOM

Add 3 ounces honey and 2/3 ounces fresh lemon or orange juice to pint of milk. Shake until dissolved.

METEOR

Heat 2 cups sweet milk over hot water. Mix together 2 teaspoons sugar, a few grains salt, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon cloves, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon. Add to the milk. Boil until spices blend, then chill.

For additional milk drink recipes, write to the Consumers Information Service, State Department of Agriculture and Markets, Albany, for the booklet "Snappy Milk Drinks."

Beer Horses for Coronation

Brewery truck horses figured in King George's coronation, according to a revelation made by Viscount Ullswater in his book, "A Speaker's Commentaries," published in London. He was Speaker Lowther at the time of the coronation. Inspecting the speaker's coach before the ceremony, Mr. Lowther surmised that it would be difficult to find horses stalwart enough to draw the heavy and cumbersome equipage. Always resourceful, he requisitioned dray horses from a local brewery.

Gardener-Hogan Game Ends in 3-3 Tie; Thomas Stars

A dispute over a passed ball brought the City League game between the Gardeners and Van Etten & Hogan Truckers to an abrupt stop in the seventh inning at the Athletic Field Wednesday evening. The Gardeners were leading at the time, 4-3, but on account of the game being called it had to be reverted back to the last full inning, the sixth, when the score was 3-3. The deadlock was the second one the Truckers played in the second half.

The argument started when Bob Purvis received a base on balls. Hank Cragan, Gardener catcher, missed the last ball and Purvis continued on to second base. Cragan retrieved the ball and threw Purvis out at second, but the Truckers claimed the ball went into the crowd and that Purvis was entitled to an extra base. The dispute lasted so long that darkness interfered and Umpire Van Buren called the game.

For five innings the game was a listless affair. But in the sixth inning things started to happen and there was all kinds of excitement crowded into the last two innings.

Willard Thomas exercised his elbow for the Gardeners and turned in his best game of the season. He limited the Truckers to five hits, mostly of the scratch variety, and would have won easily if he had better support in the first inning.

Walt Debrosky did the pitching for the Truckers. He was found for 10 hits, but managed to come through when the going got rough. The Gardeners opened the game by scoring one in the first inning. Johnson singled to right field and registered when Cragan hit a hard one to left field. Cragan tried to stretch the hit into a home run and was nipped at the plate.

The Truckers retaliated in their half of the frame by scoring twice. Lamb reached first on Cullum's error and Purvis also got on the bags as a result of an error by Moore. Both runners advanced a base while Turk was being tossed out at first. Lamb scored on an infield out and Purvis denoted the rubber on Keator's infield hit.

Singles by Roosa, Cullum and Thomas netted the Gardeners one more marker in the fourth to tie the score. In the fifth a single by Cragan, who was forced at second by Joyce, and Dawkins' double put the Gardeners in the lead, 3-2.

After two outs in the sixth inning the Truckers tied the score. Keator doubled, Proctor singled, Tiano walked, and Messing singled to send the tying run home.

Luke Roosa, Gardeners' regular catcher, was injured in the sixth inning and had to be carried off the field.

Thomas had a real fast ball. At times the Truckers were swinging while the catcher was holding the ball.

Joyce and Dawkins each lost a hit due to the last inning decision.

The leaders—Repeaters and Schryvers—meet tonight.

The score:

Gardeners	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Moore, 2b	2	0	0	1	1	1
Linden, 2b	2	0	0	2	0	0
Johnson, 3b	3	1	1	0	2	0

Repeaters vs. Schryvers Tonight

Schryvers' Lumbermen, league leaders, and Morgan's Repeaters, runners-up, will meet in the most important game of the second half at the Athletic Field this evening. A win for the Lumbermen will put them far in front of the rest of the pack while a win for the Repeaters will give them first place. Big Ed Wilson will do the singing for the Lumbermen with Jack Robins on the receiving end. Ted Fraleigh will be in the box for the Repeaters; Joe Hoffman will be stationed behind the plate.

In Title Tilt

Tagging Major League Bases

The Boston Red Sox, who came out on the short end of the score the first nine times they played the New York Yankees this season, appear to have developed into a particular thorn in the collective sides of the world's champions.

For the second time the Sox have proved troublesome to the Yanks, a time when they need every victory they can get. The New Yorkers played a doubleheader in Boston yesterday with a chance to tie Washington for the American League lead before going into a "crucial" series with the Senators, but they came out still a game behind after an even break.

Early in June the Red Sox did a similar stunt, taking four in a row from the Yanks and starting them off on a losing streak that sent them so far into second place they haven't been able to get out to stay yet.

New York won the opener yesterday 2-0 in a mound duel between Vernon Gomez and Bob Welland in which each southpaw allowed five hits. The Yanks bunched three of their blows with a couple of walks and two long flies for runs in the last two innings. Boston came back and smashed Walter Brown off the hill in the fourth inning, scoring five runs to win the second game 9-4.

Washington was rained out at Philadelphia.

The Detroit Tigers and Cleveland Indians, a game apart in the race for the last berth in the first division, took different routes to victory. The fourth place Tigers slugged it out with the St. Louis Browns, winning 9 to 7. Tommy Bridges provided the winning runs by hitting a triple with the bases full just before he was driven to the showers by a five run outburst in the eighth.

Willis Hudlin's six hit flinging was an important factor in Cleveland's 7-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox while the Hose contributed to their seventh straight defeat by making three errors in succession in the seventh to give the Indians three runs.

In the National League the pace setting New York Giants took advantage of the rain that kept their leading rivals, Chicago and Pittsburgh from playing, and increased their lead to four games over the Cubs by winning a twin bill from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The clouting of Joe Hutcheson, rookie outfielder, was the only bright spot for Brooklyn as Hal Schumacher and Hy Bell limited the Dodgers to four hits to win the opener 5-3 and Bud Parmelee pitched six hit ball for a 4-3 victory in the nightcap. Hutcheson hit two home runs, driving in five counters. Mel Ott won the opener by swatting a four-bagger in the ninth.

Johnny Vergez was knocked unconscious for five minutes when one of Carroll's pitches hit him on the head and had to leave the game but was expected to be back on the job today.

The St. Louis Cardinals climbed back into fourth place past the Boston Braves by turning back the Cincinnati Reds 2-2. Bill Hallahan and Jim Mooney collaborated in a four hit pitching job although the former had to retire after the sixth because of a sore arm. The Braves and Philadelphia had an open date.

Helen Wants Golf Crown Back

After a dismal 1932 season, when she couldn't even qualify to defend her national title, Helen Hicks has come back this summer with a substantial brand of golf. She's serious, at last. Virginia Van Wie, present women's champion, is shown below. They'll have it out at Chicago.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN J. COULD

(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

The Giants got a very bad break when their acrobatic shortstop, Bledsoe Ryan, was spiked by the Cardinals' Joe Medwick at the Polo Grounds early in July.

They got a worse one when Jack Doyle, the Broadway betting commissioner, came out with a revision of his baseball odds making the Giants favorites for the first time to win the National League pennant.

So long as the Cards were the top choice, the Giants went about their work in a rollicking, carefree fashion, betting over one and all and sustaining a dashing pace. After the big load was shifted to the back of Terry's men, they faltered badly through the west.

Even during their losing streak, however, the club was getting the best pitching in the league and Ryan's return may be the tonic needed to put them back in winning form.

More Than Willing

Old Man Dempsey is on tour again, as you may have guessed from the dispatches.

He thought very well of Texas as a basic center while in Texas and suggested, for his part, he would be quite willing to have Max Baer engage Primo Carnera if the Lone Star enthusiasts could see their way clear to making a $500,000 offer for the match.

Of course, all laughed quite heartily at this, for the fact is that Jack, Max Primo and Da Proem's entire board of directors would gladly hire Balbo's squadron to take them off to Fiji, giving fancy parachute performances en route, if shown anything like $500,000 in cash.

Happily for all concerned, Dempsey's cordiality and enthusiasm are not limited to Texas. It's an open tournament.

Are Their Faces Red

The harassed gentlemen who make up the various national or "world" tennis rankings must be considerably embarrassed by events abroad this season.

Margaret Scriven, English girl, was ranked No. 12 in the British list, but she bowed over a flock of favorites to win the French singles championship.

Dorothy Round was ranked No. 2, below little Mary Heeley in the same English list, but whereas Miss Heeley won just two games in as many sets from Helen Wills Moody, Miss Round captured a whole set from the great American and brought Mrs. Moody closer to defeat than at any time in seven years.

Miss Round was not listed in A. Wallis Myers' "first ten" among women players for 1932 and the Australian ace, Jack Crawford, who conquered Ellsworth Vines in the Wimbledon final, was put at No. 10 last year.

Tennis "Grand Slam"

Crawford, now holder of the Australian, French and British singles titles, has the chance for a "grand slam" by coming over for the United States championships at Forest Hills in September.

Vines held both the American and British singles crowns when he lost to Vivian McGrath in the Australian championship tournament last winter.

Big Bill Tilden in 1920 won the British and American championships, as well as the New Zealand title, in connection with his triumphant Davis Cup trip to the Antipodes with Little Bill Johnston. The following year, 1921, Tilden won the French hard-court title, repeated at Wimbledon and retained the American title for the nearest approach to the cleanup Crawford is aiming at.

Rene Lacoste and Henri Cochet never held more than two of these "Big Three" titles (French, British and American) at one time.

Callison To Pitch To Old Grogan Rivals

Judge Bernard "Bud" Callison will don his uniform and shoot them off the hill to the Watervliet Grogans, old rivals of the Kingston Colonials, who were also having their greatest days when the Colonials were at their peak and "Bud" was a college boy pitching for the locals. An old scene will be created Sunday afternoon: the setting is the same—the Fair Grounds—and baseball hasn't changed, but yet an old fan might leave a sigh, for when the Colonials were having their heyday many of the boys now on the All Stars were running around in rompers.

It will do Bud's heart good to pitch a winner over his old enemies and it will be a tough assignment, for Watervliet has not depreciated as the years have passed by, that is, not according to a report received by McCordie concerning the Grogans. They are reputed as being one of the best semi-pro teams in the state.

The All Stars, nice strong with their reserves will be on deck. Lutz Bruhn, who was spiked, is now in condition again and will be in the lineup Sunday. Jimmy Martin and Volker will be on hand to do mound duty.

Legion Juniors Meet Clinton Today

The American Legion Juniors meet Clinton this afternoon in an elimination contest at Clinton. As may be readily assumed, the latter ball club is the strongest Kingston has taken the diamond against in these battles for the American Legion Junior state baseball championship.

Last week Clinton defeated one of the most outstanding teams in the competition from Schenectady, but then Kingston displayed its wares against Scotia at Schenectady last Saturday and won 6-2.

Manager Eddie Coughlin of the local squad feels sure his boys will continue their present pace. Besides playing a bang up fielding game, most of the lads are swinging well at the plate and this good hitting is bringing results.

If Kingston wins today, Long Island will be the next enemy territory to invade.

The game that was scheduled for Saugerties was called off because of weather conditions. In this practice tilt Coughlin planned to use all three twirlers, however, today he confined his attention to the present battle and gave Celuch's name as the one to start on the mound against Clinton. This youngster pitched against Scotia and turned in a fine job. While will be on hand for relief work.

Manager Coughlin announced the starting lineup: Celuch, p; Zadany, c; Hopper, 1b; Murphy, 2b; C. Beck, 3b; Van Derzee, ss; Rheinhart, lf; Tiano, cf and Belchert, rf.

TWO PLAYERS AND UMPIRE INJURED IN BASEBALL GAME

Modena, July 27.—The Modena Fire Department baseball team defeated the Plattkill Grangers in a nine-inning game played on the local diamond, Sunday afternoon, with a score of 6-3. During the game two of the players were injured and the umpire, Jack Dempsey, received a broken collar-bone. A benefit game will be played on the New Paltz Normal diamond between the M. F. D.'s and the Oliveville team to defray expenses of medical attention for Dempsey's injuries.

Poison Ivy, like several other plants with similar names, is not an ivy, but is merely called by that name because of its resemblance to the real ivy. Poison ivy belongs to the same family and genus as the sumacs and is a totally different plant from the English ivy.

Risiko Defeats Tommy Loughran

Chicago, July 27 (AP)—Johnny Risiko, the Cleveland brawler boy, today held his first ring decision in four starts over Tommy Loughran, the Philadelphia dancing master.

Risiko won over the Philadelphia by his aggressiveness in their round contest at Mills stadium last night. In the first round, Risiko opened a two-handed offensive that appeared to horrify the former light-heavyweight champion. He rushed Loughran to the ropes under a heavy body attack, splitting his with a left hook to the chin for a count of three. Loughran, however, pulled himself up at the count of three and succeeded in untracking himself in the second and third rounds to outpace Risiko.

The Cleveland brawler boy won the credits of the judges and refused to let the body in the remaining rounds. He carried the fight to Loughran who seemed unable to land effectively, after being knocked down in the first round.

The decision was not unanimous as one of the judges cast his vote for Loughran. The other judge, however, and Referee Tommy Thomas, favored Risiko. Loughran spotted Risiko 8 1/2 pounds, scaling 155.

Matters Before The Surrogate

Will and codicil of Judson S. Babcock, who died in Kingston June 24, admitted to probate, disposes of an estate valued at to exceed $5,999 real and more than $5,999 personal. Florence Babcock, the widow, is the executrix. The original will, executed in 1924, divided the personal estate, excepting farm stock, tools, implements and merchandise, one-half to the widow and one-fourth each to the two daughters, Beulah Babcock and Birdella Mellert. The use of the residence property at 187 Hurley Avenue to the widow and daughter, Beulah, for life or as long as the widow remains unmarried, then to son, Clarence J. Babcock. Remainder to son, who is to pay his mother $3,000. By the codicil, dated September, 1931, $2,500 is given to Beulah A. Babcock to balance a similar amount given her sister, Birdella E. Mellert. To the widow all moneys on deposit, securities, etc., for life. At her death, one-half to Beulah A. and one-half in trust, income to Birdella E. Mellert as long as she remains married to William Mellert. V. B. Van Wageningen is the attorney.

Letters of administration in the estate of Joseph Firestein, who died in Kingston July 7, granted on petition of Minnie Firestein of Philadelphia, the widow. There is also one son, Herman Firestein, living in Philadelphia. The estate consists of personal property valued at not to exceed $700. Bernard A. Culloton is the attorney.

Letters granted to Alta M. Brodhead, High Falls, daughter, in the estate of Lambert D. Brodhead, late of the town of Marlborough, who died in Kingston, June 16. In addition to the daughter he leaves a widow, Phoebe Brodhead. There is real estate of an estimated value of $2,000, consisting of a lot and stone house on the main street, High Falls, also a house and lot along the old canal bed, just off the main street and two small parcels of unimproved land. Personal does not exceed $700. V. B. Van Wageningen, attorney.

Will of Henry Beach, who died in Rosendale July 6, admitted to probate of the widow, Mary Beach of Rosendale, who is named executrix and sole beneficiary. There is real property in Rosendale, jointly owned. Furniture and personal effects are valued at not to exceed $500. Lloyd R. LeFever is the attorney.

Letters of administration in the estate of Elizabeth Van Wageningen, formerly of the town of Rosendale, who died in Kerhonkson July 8, granted on petition of Grover Van Wageningen of Middletown, a son. Other heirs at law are Pearl Illingsworth of Poughkeepsie, a daughter, and Harry T. Van Wageningen of Cottekill, son. There is residence property on Lucas turnpike, town of Rosendale, estimated value $2,000 and personal of not to exceed $700. V. B. Van Wageningen is the attorney.

Letters of the estate of C. Beekman Jansen, who died in Kingston July 14, granted on petition of Grace Elizabeth and Mary Emma Jansen of Kingston, daughters. Edna Jansen Van Wart of Springfield, Mass., is also a daughter. The estate consists of personal property valued at not to exceed $5,000. V. B. Van Wageningen is the attorney.

Will of Mary J. Haskins, who died in Ellenville July 8, admitted to probate upon petition of Grace Boquet, niece, 860 53rd street, Brooklyn, who is named executrix. There is no real property. Personal is valued at about $50 in addition to a joint account of $1,064.14 in the Ellenville Savings Bank and one of $419.95 in the Dime Savings Bank, Brooklyn. To the Faintelink Cemetery Association is left $30, income for care of half plot; remainder to niece, Grace H. Boquet. The will, written on a sheet of note paper, was executed in December, 1920. Raymond G. Cox is the attorney.

Will of Eliza C. Wood, who died in the town of Marlborough April 3, admitted to probate on petition of Elizabeth Van Gansbeek, Wood of High Falls, executrix, who is the beneficiary, testator's husband, John Wood, having predeceased her. There is real estate valued at not to exceed $2,500 and personal of not more than $5,500. The will was executed in 1924.

OFFICE CAT
By Junius

The common spelling is cat—not kat.

Daylight saving merely makes people tired an hour earlier.

Little Sandy—Hey, pa, let's go to the Century of Progress Exposition. It only costs 50 cents to get in.

Sandy—Next time, laddie, we'll go to the next one.

The man who loaned his new son-in-law several hundred dollars, complained because all he ever got back was his daughter.

Girl—Have you heard the last thing about Rudy Vallee?
Boy Friend—I hope so.

Old-Timer—Make hay while the sun shines, my boy!
The Kid—Who the deuce want to make hay?

In the old days barbers, practiced medicine and surgery; now, however, most of them confine themselves to surgery.

"I noticed when a lot of people are convicted in court, there are various reasons—did not get a fair trial, or this or that, but never because they are guilty."

Brad—I see where the Doctors in Paris are vaccinating girls on the arms again, rather than the legs.

Hale—No doubt vaccinations were becoming too noticeable.

Put two and two together and the result is always the same: Bfidge.

"Our home is like a modern hotel," says a well-known man, "we have a radio in every room, and it's all because the walls aren't sound-proof."

Man (at ball game)—Come on home, you darn fool!
Wife—Why, John we only just got here.

Thunder-storm.... Our idea of a man truly going down in defeat is one with falling arches—Some people are born with black eyes. Others have black eyes thrust upon them.... If some rich men ever take a rest it will be because that is all there is left to take. False teeth, too, should be seen and not heard.... Then, again some of the brave do serve the air. There are somebody's shoes we're glad we are not in, and they belong to the modern girl. It doesn't follow that a thing cannot be done simply because you can't do it.

Barbara—I can't understand why you married Jack. Why, he has only one arm.
Judith—That's just it—I admire him because he's fought his way single handed.

What we are trying to remember to tell the next person who urges us to "use a little horse sense" is that it doesn't seem to have done very much for the horse.

Another thing that "white collar code" should have is a prohibition against starch.

Bishop of New York (who had just missed a train on account of the inaccuracy of his watch)—I have faith in this watch!

Bishop of Chicago—Yes, but what is faith without good works?

A man calls his bird dog "Scotch" because he is so good at picking up a scent and keeping it.

Man—What are you doing to my daughter, young man?
Sutor—I'm hugging her, sir.

Man—What do you mean by taking such liberties?
Sutor—Oh, ahem! I'm a reporter.

Man—What's that got to do with it?
Sutor—Well, you see, I have a press pass.

Out where the handclasp is a little stronger; out where the mortgage lasts a little longer; out where the sheriff's sales go wrong—there's where the West begins.

Chicago authorities seem to be getting their wires crossed. The judge says the auto shows are for booze and the fair people say they're for artists.

A golf writer says there's no excitement any more about making a hole-in-one. Naturally. It's been too easy lately to get into a hole.

Dispatches from Cleveland, telling of European ships carrying cargoes to and from the Great Lakes can't be right. Every authority opposed to the St. Lawrence Seaway has explained that such a thing would never happen.

ANNUAL OUTING AND PICNIC OF PLATTEKILL GRANGE.

Plattekill, July 27.—One of the gala events of the year's program will be celebrated on Saturday of this week when members of the Plattekill Grange and their families will enjoy their annual outing and picnic at Orange Lake Park. Lunch will be served promptly at 12:30 by the service and hospitality committee. Each family attending is requested to bring sandwiches and one covered dish, also their own utensils. The committee will provide fruit and drinks. A baseball game will be enjoyed in the afternoon.

The service and hospitality committee met with Mrs. Arthur Diener recently.

On August 2, members of the Grange will assist the M. E. Church in removal of the church sheds in an all-day work bee. Lunch will be provided by the service and hospitality committee.

The annual clambake for the Grange members and their families will be held Saturday evening, August 19, with the following committee in charge: Edgar Cronk, chairman, Leander Minard, Charles Jenkins, E. L. Schoonmaker, William Mack, Ralph Newkirk, Emory Robinson, Ira Cronk, William Sheeley, Charles Everett, C. I. Thompson, William Nabor, Orson Hedges, Nelson Hedges, George Fowler and George Sherwood.

A most enjoyable meeting was held on Saturday evening. The program subject, "The Great Out-of-Doors," in charge of Edward Jenkins, chairman, was presented as follows: Song, The Wild Bird, Reading, Insects, The Enemy of Man, Lecturer, Exhibition of Weeds and Grasses, A. E. Kurdt, Impromptu Fishing Stories, by several members. Colored Slides on Native Birds, Farm Bureau Manager A. E. Kurdt. One act play, "Not Quite Such a Goose," by the following cast of characters: Mrs. Alfred Bell, a happy mother, Mrs. Oscar Jansen, Albert Bell, her son, Edward Jenkins, Sylvia Bell, her daughter, Emeretta Jansen, Philip Flick, Sylvia's sweetheart, Paul Kittle, Hazel Henderson, Sylvia's friend, Mrs. Amos Chase. Following the program iced watermelon was enjoyed, served by the committee in charge.

Habits of Shad
Shad invariably return to spawn in the waters from which they made their original migration. By planting in unpolluted waters, the young from hatchery shad may be made to come up streams never before used by them.
